CHARLES W. MOORE TO TESTIFY IN KIDNAPING CASE

TRIAL OF HUMMEL TO BRING OUT FACTS OF FAMOUS CASE.

By Boston American Special Wire.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—After a long absence, Mr. Charles W. Moore has suddenly appeared in New York to tell in public the dramatic story of her tangled marital life.

This woman, the central figure in the Dolge-Moore divorce controversy, is to be a star witness in the case of Abraham H. Hummel, lawyer, now on trial on several charges.

Mr. Moore, who was a Union Square, Southern society, before her marriage to Charles F. Dolge, from whom she was divorced in 1904, is now in New York to testify in the case of Abraham H. Hummel, lawyer, now on trial on several charges.

Mr. Moore has had a conference with District Attorney Jerome and he is in possession of all that she knows about the Dolge-Moore case.

Will Tell Whole Story.

Mr. Moore, who is now in New York, will tell the whole story of her life with Charles F. Dolge, from whom she was divorced in 1904.

TINY CHAP IS HORSE THIEF

Clarence Whitney, aged eleven years, pleaded guilty to being a horse thief before Judge Campbell in the West Cambridge court, and his plying little hand in answer to the gruff words of the clerk of the court, including the grave and stately judge.

When the name was called, a tiny chap, who hardly reached to the top of the bar, stood up and answered the clerk's question. He was dressed in a blue suit and a white shirt, and he had a very serious expression on his face.

Another shock for Hummel was the demand of the prosecution that he be locked up in the House of Correction during the trial. But this was compromised by the admission of the prisoner to a $5,000 bond.

Still another question was a charge by Assistant District Attorney Jerome that Mr. Hummel had been in the city for a long time, and that he was a known character.

CURATE FIGHTS TO HOLD PLACE

STAMFORD, Ct., Dec. 14.—An is not more and sunshine in St. John's Episcopal Church of this city. The fashionable and wealthy parishes do not take kindly to what they term the socialistic ideas of Curate George (Thomas) Richmond, and have requested his resignation. He has positively declined to leave his post, and is determined to hold his place.

Any man who says that $25,000 is a large sum of money is a fool. The curate of St. John's Episcopal Church, who is now in New York, will tell the whole story of her life with Charles F. Dolge, from whom she was divorced in 1904.

AN EL DORADO FOR CHRISTMAS SHOPPERS

The Cheeriest, Best Stocked, Busiest Holiday Store in Boston—A Revel of Christmas Attractions

Is it any wonder that Henry Siegel Co. is doing the biggest Holiday business in New England? Perfectly natural; entirely logical. The store itself in its brilliant Holiday dress presents a most inspiring spectacle.

From the store itself in its brilliant Holiday dress presents a most inspiring spectacle. The fine stocks of newest Christmas merchandise from all the principal United States and European manufacturing centers; the splendor of the embellishments, the harmony of arrangement, the thorough reasonableness of the prices—all combine to make it Boston's foremost retail store—a fact that the public is realizing in a manner that daily amounts to an ovation.

DRIVEN OFF BY THE EFFICIENT ROLE OF THE RUSSIAN SHOWS POWER

Great Russian Actor and His Company Present Ibsen's "The Ghosts."

While the devotion of Bernhardt was going wild over her in New York last evening a small number of "intellectuals," members of the Harvard faculty, men and women in the literary world in Boston and Cambridge, were applauding the play of the Russian actress.

It is not necessary to discuss the need of presenting such a play as "The Ghosts," with all its dramatic tendencies, but an example of masterful acting in Ibsen's play, and a play of the highest order, is a play of the highest order.
